

Children's Newsletter

April, 2005

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

Ecclesiastes 12:13-14

The Task:

One of the biggest questions people ask is “what is my purpose here on earth?”. I want you to read the book of Ecclesiastes. Twelve chapters shouldn't be too much to read in one month. In this book you will find that purpose.

I want to change our world, to create something without sin and to take the sin out of things already made. I want to show the truth to those who are still following lies. I know that God only needs one person committed to him to make a big impact on the earth; but what if He had two or three or more. The results could only be extraordinary.

The theme for this issue will continue into the next. After you read Ecclesiastes, I hope that you all can write about what you want to do for God.
